

PRIVACY POLICY

Thank you for visiting my web site! Like many people, I have recently become more aware of concerns regarding protecting personal information, including my own! My policy regarding information entrusted to me is simple: Other than what is needed by the entities listed below for my web site, mailing list, and blog to function, I don't collect data from you and won't sell information I have access to.

--My Internet hosting is provided by GoDaddy <<https://www.godaddy.com>>. Links to their legal documents are listed at the bottom of their home page.

--If you subscribe to my mailing list, which is automated through AWeber, you can read their privacy policy by clicking on the link in the subscribe box. A way to unsubscribe will also be listed at the bottom of each email sent through this provider.

--Any buy links for books are linked to Amazon.com or other established retailers, which also have their own privacy policies, usually listed at the bottom of their home pages.

--My blog is hosted by Blogger <<https://www.blogger.com>> with a link to their privacy policy also listed at the bottom of their home page.
